

The Magic Library

By Noah Packer

One morning Noah goes to the library but he doesn't suspect that this library is magic! Noah goes in the library and is amazed. He can not hold himself back he runs in. Noah opens a horror book to have a read but he gets sucked in The Scarecrow Walks At Midnight! 'Arrrr! The scarecrow!' Noah ran as fast as he could from the scarecrow. 'There must be a lever or a button to get out!' 'Co..me ou...t whe...rever yo..u ar...e' said the scarecrow in a creaky voice 'O...h co...me ou..t.' Noah held his breath. The scarecrow walks away. Noah sighed in relief but then the scarecrow jumped out of the corn fields! 'Arrrr!' Noah shouted in shock. Noah ran as fast as he could but the scarecrow was faster! 'H...a h...a!' laughed the scarecrow. Next blackness. A while later Noah woke up in a sack with his hands and feet tied up with rope. It seemed Noah was moving! Then Noah was falling. Bang Noah hit something hard. Noah struggled out the sack. Noah could see a HUGE cave full of skeletons! At least they were not alive. And then the scarecrow came down the hole Noah fell down. Noah hid in the sack and looked out a hole in the sack. Death loomed before him but the scarecrow left suddenly and Noah looked around and in surprise he saw a lever Noah grabbed for the lever and pulled. In an instant Noah was back at the library. As Noah walked home Noah said to himself that was a life changing book.
